Lovers Elope And Get Married.

AN elopement which was fraught with many exciting incidents culminated in a happy wedding in this city Tuesday night, the principals being Miss Lida Hornsey, the pretty sixteen-year-old daughter of T. A. Hornsey, of Lexington, and Mr. Ernest Frazier, an employe at F. P. Lowry & Co.'s merchant tailoring establishment in this city. Expecting to board the 3:05 L. & N. train at Fourth street (in Lexington) for Paris, Miss Hornsey and her friends, Mr. Oscar Bottom and Miss Hattie Alexander, were pursued by an officer and Mr. Hornsey, but the elopers escaped detection by hiding in a saloon. They then drove to Paris in a buggy, were met by Mr. Frazier, and the marriage was solemnized by Rev. Dr. Rutherford, at his residence, a few minutes before Mr. Hornsey arrived. In an interview at the Fordham between Mr. Hornsey and the runaways, the bride was entreated to return home with her father. While Mr. Hornsey was in the office waiting for a consultation with an attorney, the elopers left the hotel by a rear entrance, climbed a fence and escaped in a buggy. Mr. Hornsey gave up the chase and returned to Lexington. Mr. Frazier and bride, who spent the night at the home of a friend, are now boarding at the Fordham.

Limerick won the Lexington stake ($2,000) for two-year-olds, and Heir At Law took the 2:05 pace, Planet second, Bumps third. Best time 2:05 1/2.

A Queer Wanderer.

PROBABLY the queerest wanderer who ever visited Paris is James Murrin, of Dakota, who has for days been hovering between life and death at the Windsor. Murrin is about five feet tall, is eccentric in appearance and always carries a violin in his hand when on the street. He is a slave of morphine and can take thirty grains a day—enough to kill twenty large men. He is well educated and it is said that when he is under influence of the drug Murrin can draw divine music from his violin. He slept out doors several nights, and has been so ill that he has retained no nourishment for nine days. Dr. Bowen is taking care of Murrin and giving him every necessary medical attention.

THE cheapest place to buy lumber, shingles, etc., is at the old yard of Tarr & Templin, near the L. & N. freight depot. BOURBON LUMBER CO., (tf) By T. H. TARR, Manager.

Mrs. Stoner's Peril.

In Mt. Sterling Tuesday Mrs. Warren Stoner, daughter-in-law of Col. R. G. Stoner, of this city, came very near being killed in a runaway. The horse which she was driving ran away while the bridle was being changed, and without a bridle on tore down Maysville street, with the lady trying to choke him down. It ran into an iron fence and was killed.

The rare presence of mind of Mrs. Stoner in refusing to jump from the buggy saved her life. She escaped with a few bruises.

To Meet In Cynthiana.

THE Kentucky Midland Medical Association will have its next meeting in Cynthiana next Thursday. Dr. H. H. Roberts, of this city, will read a paper on "Autumnal Fevers," at the meeting. Dr. Roberts is well posted on the subject, and will present some new views in his paper. With a device specially adapted for the purpose he has recently examined drops of blood from fever patients which prove to be of inestimable benefit in a diagnosis.

Valuable Pacer Drops Dead.

JIM SIMMONS, a fine pacer owned by J. M. Hall, dropped dead from heart disease Tuesday afternoon just after being driven a mile in 2:30 over J. E. Clay's race track by Doug Thomas. Jim Simmons had a record of 2:15 1/2, and was by Young Jim, dam by Jay Bird. He was valued at about $2,000.

Loye has laughed at officers and locksmiths some more. At Mt Sterling Tuesday Dr. J. F. Jones swore that his sister-in-law, Miss Bettie Hurt, was of unsound mind, and kept James Hunt from securing license to wed her. Tuesday night Miss Hurt's uncle, James Mason, was made deputy sheriff, to watch over her, but while he slept the girl escaped with her lover and is probably married by this time.

DRESS GOODS.

My importations for this Fall and Winter of Ladies' and Children's Dress Goods exceed in cost of investment $10,000 any other purchase I ever made in this one line of goods. With forty years' experience in Dry Goods business in Paris I saw it was to your and my interest to secure these goods under the low tariff, consequently I invested every available dollar I had in goods at low prices. The new Dingley tariff bill has already made and will when set fully at work make all classes of Dry Goods fully double in price what they were under the Wilson or low tariff. I have the advantage of this: My goods were bought when cheap, and it is my intention to hold them down as long as a yard of them lasts. If you want to save money in your purchase this Fall and Winter come and see me and examine my stock and hear prices before you invest elsewhere.
